The background of the entire page is an abstract composition. It features large, soft-edged teal and light blue washes that frame the central text. Scattered throughout these washes and the central white space are numerous small, irregular gold and yellow dots, resembling confetti or paint splatters. The overall aesthetic is modern and artistic.

A delicate watercolor illustration of a floral wreath. The wreath is composed of various green leaves, some with serrated edges, and clusters of small red berries. Interspersed among the greenery are several orange, bell-shaped flowers. The entire wreath is set against a soft, out-of-focus background of similar floral elements in muted colors.
